

The One Word Project documents the responses obtained during an online project held at the Web site, Thinking About Art (<http://thinkingaboutart.blogspot.com>). J.T. Kirkland (the Editor) gave each participating artist a single word to which the artist responded with 100-500 words that pertained to the word and their art. In total, 42 artists from across North America participated in the effort and 39 are published in this book. Each artist is represented by their writing and a full color image of their artwork.
