

Attack of the Johnnies

A Johnnie has a brain intermediate between a human's brain and a chimpanzee's. They keep the appearance of three-foot tall human children all their lives - but they have an ape's berserker strength, the ability to make simple tools and an inbred hatred of true humans. A Johnnie pack will rarely have over twenty full grown males. They roam the wastelands hunting and gathering while using sharpened poles as lances. They're little more than a nuisance to firearm-toting humans, even those who often travel through their territory. But now the Johnnies are gathering into mega-packs and making common cause with Super Wolves, Zombies, and Gaia to wipe humanity off the face of the Earth.
